

Recruitment Ad for 2008

The University of Iowa. The Department of Sociology invites applications for a tenure-track position in Social Psychology at the level of Assistant or Associate Professor, beginning Fall 2009. The department houses The Center for the Study of Group Processes, an experimental laboratory offering research opportunities for faculty and graduate students. We seek strong candidates who show evidence of ability to pursue an ambitious research program including publications and external funding, and who have excellent teaching skills.

Increasing diversity of faculty and students at The University of Iowa is a major goal of the department. Candidates interested in job sharing or other flexible load arrangements are welcome to apply. The University of Iowa is a large public university in a friendly, culturally diverse community. The Department of Sociology provides competitive salaries and benefits along with strong infrastructure support for research. Applications should have Ph.D. in hand by August 2009. Please submit a curriculum vitae, statement of research agenda, and three letters of recommendation.

Formal screening will begin on October 1, 2008 and will continue until the position is filled. To apply for this position, visit our website at <http://jobs.uiowa.edu/faculty> and reference requisition #55800. The University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer.

Posted to website August 25, 2008 at 3:34