

EMPOWERED SOCIOLOGISTS: AGENCY & ACTION TOWARDS SOCIAL CHANGE

89TH ANNUAL MEETING OF THE SOUTHERN SOCIOLOGICAL SOCIETY

JACKSONVILLE, FLORIDA
APRIL 8-11, 2026

About the Art and the Artist

Empowered Sociologists take center stage as the thinkers and doers of repairing our society in crisis. As our basic needs and foundational ideologies are dissipating and under attack, bystanders critique and marvel at our persistence towards equity and societal well-being. Tattered, tired, and bruised, we remain in solidarity and community for a just world.

The color purple is central to represent liberation, wisdom, and uplift.

Welcome Message from SSS President, Dr. Kendra Jason

Welcome to the 2026 Southern Sociological Society Annual Meeting! This conference has been specifically designed for you. My goal is to create an experience where you feel empowered, supported, and understood. Sociology is our superpower and this Society was formed to help solve social problems. This year's theme, Empowered Sociologists: Agency and Action Towards Social Change, serves as a reminder that sociology gives us the tools, language, and knowledge to make sense of our social worlds, and to make it better. I hope that you will fully engage in the program that was designed to help you meet the unique challenges our discipline and society are facing today.

I have curated a set of Presidential Plenaries to give us big picture ideas and insights to move forward including Dr. Rashawn Ray's talk on Building a Resilient Discipline: The Role of Evidence-Based Practice in Social Transformation. I am especially excited to present you with a series of Strategy Sessions titled, "Navigating Higher Ed" with social scientists who will provide strategies, solutions, and thought partnership to address challenges as they pertain to leadership, curriculum & the classroom, non-academic jobs, research & funding, and lessons learned. I also encourage you to attend the film screening, Are You A Librarian? The Untold Story of Black Librarians, a documentary by Rodney Freeman, that aims to illuminate the profound impact of Black librarians.

This conference has several unique spaces to tap into your empowered self centering wellness, networking and professional development.

Wellness: We have three avenues for you to support your physical and mental well-being:

- Stride Through the River City: A Community In Motion: See the city of Jacksonville through a light run or casual walk, led by Laura Atkins and Tiffany Chenault, Thursday and Friday at 6am
- Yoga 4 Change: Yoga 4 Change, a local non-profit, fosters holistic wellbeing, resilience, and transformation for individuals and communities through evidence-based trauma-informed curricula. Sessions are fully-inclusive with modifications and accommodations for differently-abled participants. Start your day with an empowered stretch! Yoga mats are provided. There are no fees to participate. Led by Kavita Broussard, Thursday, Friday, & Saturday, at 7am

- Restoration as Resistance: Recentering the Self in Yoga and Meditation: This mini conference focuses on balancing the intellectual work we do with the vital work of reflection and restoration. The intentional movement offered in yoga opens the door to slow down, breathe, and explore the spaces between the moments, while meditation offers the opportunity to calm the mind. Yoga mats are provided. There are no fees to participate. Led by Joslyn Brenton and Kris Macomber, Thursday and Friday at 4pm

Purposeful Networking: We created time and space for you to (re)connect and collaborate:

- Lunch Hour: Friday, from 1:00-2:15pm is your time to meet collaborators, go to lunch with a mentor, reconnect with friends and colleagues, or just enjoy quiet time. We recommend you make lunch reservations to maximize your lunch hour!
- Committee Meetings: All committee meetings are held Friday at 8:30am in the Grand Ballroom 1 &2

2026 Conference Playlist: I have curated a playlist to capture the spirit of the conference. Here is the QR Code for your listening enjoyment. A few songs are explicit, but these are explicit times (smile). Find it here:

I turn your attention to the multiple mini-conferences (JEDI; Crime, Law and Deviance; Rest and Reflection; Teaching and Learning, Mental Health), our Author Meet Curious Readers (AMCR) sessions, and various workshops and panels. Students! Enjoy the Student Mixer, Thursday night at the Pour Taproom. We have over 70 poster entries to enjoy at our Thursday Poster Session and Reception. Finally, I hope to see you at Wednesday's Welcome Reception where you will Meet the Candidates and Friday's Presidential Reception.

I have deep gratitude to the program committee co-chairs Mairead Moloney and Taylor McElwain. Thank you for making my vision become a reality! Thank you to the local arrangements committee, Laura Atkins and Stephanie Bradley for highlighting so many beautiful aspects of Jacksonville. Thank you to the program committee, Vice President James Maples, Recording Secretary Elizabeth Culatta, research assistant Frantony (Jeremy) Lewis, and Executive Officer Cameron Lippard for your support all year. I also want to thank all the behind-the-scenes folks who called, text, and game-planned with me as we navigated swift changes and policy updates. Thank you to everyone who contributed to the Empowered Sociologists Travel Fund and supported our colleagues attending this meeting who were having financial difficulties. Thank you all.

We made it, y'all!

A Welcome Message from the Co-Chairs

Greetings colleagues,

We are excited to welcome you to the 89th Annual Meeting of the Southern Sociological Society in Jacksonville, Florida. This year's program features over 200 sessions and more than 700 presentations organized around President Kendra Jason's conference theme, "Empowered Sociologists: Agency and Action Towards Social Change."

The depth and breadth of this program reflect the strength of our scholarly community and the many ways sociologists engage critical social issues through research, teaching, and public scholarship. As noted in our charter, the Society works to promote sociology as both a profession and a scientific discipline by maintaining high standards, encouraging effective teaching and research, applying sociological knowledge to societal problems, collaborating with related disciplines, recruiting and training sociologists, and supporting the development of sociology programs across institutions.

With these goals in mind, we worked to create a program that offers space for thoughtful papers, engaging panels, posters, and roundtables, while also fostering opportunities for conversation, collaboration, and creative exchange across subfields. We hope the meeting provides not only a platform for sharing scholarship but also a space for building connections and generating new ideas that advance sociological inquiry and social change.

As you prepare for the meeting, please keep the following logistical notes in mind:

1. If you have any questions or need assistance onsite, please stop by the registration desk where members of the conference team will be happy to help.
2. Presentation preparation: While Wi-Fi will be available in conference spaces, large gatherings can sometimes lead to inconsistent connectivity. To ensure sessions run smoothly, we recommend bringing your presentation on a USB drive and/or emailing it to your presider in advance so it can be downloaded onto their laptop.
3. Jacksonville in spring can be warm, so be sure to stay hydrated as you move between sessions and conference events.

Finally, we would like to extend our sincere gratitude to everyone who contributed to building this program—from those who submitted their work to the many reviewers, organizers, and committee members whose time and expertise made this meeting possible. We are also deeply appreciative of the Executive Office for their ongoing guidance and technical support throughout the planning process.

We look forward to welcoming you to Jacksonville and hope you leave the meeting energized by the conversations, ideas, and collaborations that make the Southern Sociological Society community so vibrant.

Warm regards,

Dr. Mairead Moloney & Taylor McElwain

Social Currents

Social Currents, the official journal of the Southern Sociological Society, is a broad-ranging social science journal that focuses on cutting-edge research from all methodological and theoretical orientations with implications for national and international sociological communities. The uniqueness of Social Currents lies in its format. The front end of every issue is devoted to short, theoretical, agenda-setting contributions and brief, empirical, and policy-related pieces. The back end of every issue includes standard journal articles that cover topics within specific subfields of sociology, as well as across the social sciences more broadly.

Anti-Harassment Policy

SSS is committed to providing a safe and welcoming conference environment for all participants, free from harassment based on age, race, ethnicity, national origin, religion, language, sexual orientation, gender identity or gender expression, disability, health conditions, socioeconomic status, marital status, domestic status, or parental status (hereafter, simply harassment). Harassment of colleagues, students, hotel staff, or other conference participants undermines the principle of equity at the heart of these professional fora and is inconsistent with the principles of free inquiry and free expression.

Harassment of any participant is unethical behavior under the American Sociological Association Code of Ethics. Harassment consists of a single intense and severe act or of multiple persistent or pervasive acts that are demeaning, abusive, offensive, or create a hostile professional or workplace environment. Harassment may include sexual solicitation, physical advance, or verbal or non-verbal conduct that is sexual in nature; threatening, intimidating, or hostile acts; circulation of written or graphic material that denigrates or shows hostility toward an individual or group; epithets, slurs, or negative stereotyping based on group identity.

All participants at SSS meetings are expected to abide by this Anti-Harassment Policy in all meeting venues, including ancillary events and official and unofficial social gatherings. If you witness potential harm to a conference participant, be proactive in helping to mitigate or avoid that harm. Alert conference security personnel or law enforcement if you see a situation in which someone might be in imminent physical danger.

2026 Advocates

Advocates are volunteer members of SSS who are available to support those making a report by providing information and resources. On the next page, you can view the 2026 advocates and use the QR code to report any incidents.

Session Glossary

AMCRs: These “Author-Meets-Curious-Reader” Sessions are an opportunity for book authors and other experts in their field to discuss recent publications. Join these conversations to learn more about new sociological material and to hear from those likely to agree or disagree with the conclusions drawn.

Mini-Conference: A formal grouping of paper sessions around a central theme. The sessions provide an opportunity to learn from authors about their work and the new sociological knowledge they have developed. These mini-conference sessions are built of 10-minute presentations and question-and-answer sessions where time allows.

Panel Sessions: These curated conversations focus on a topic, and the scholars make waves within it. By viewing these sessions, you will learn from the presenters and can ask questions to learn more about the subject.

Paper Sessions: Paper sessions are an opportunity to learn from authors about their work and the new sociological knowledge emerging from it. These sessions are built of 10-minute presentations and question-and-answer sessions, where time allows.

Plenary Session: An invited formal presentation to the entire society, focused on a topic that highlights the conference theme.

Poster Sessions: Almost paper sessions, based on posters, that allow scholars to share their work with an active audience. Presenters in these sessions range from undergraduates sharing their work with the community for the first time to tenured professors continuing to share their knowledge.

Presidential Address: A formal session that serves as the keynote address of the society delivered by the president.

Roundtables: Roundtables are informal presentations focused more on conversations about the researcher’s topic. These do not include formal presentations; instead, they opt for an informed conversational approach.

Thematic Sessions: These paper and panel sessions have been selected for their unique connection to the conference theme, “Empowering Sociologists.”

Workshops: Focused on skills sociologists use, such as publishing and teaching, these provide an opportunity to learn from colleagues about the inner workings of our discipline. Attend these to learn from experienced members of our network how they do their work as sociologists.

Thursday | 4:00 pm-5:15 pm | Boardroom 4 (20)

Organizers: Joslyn Brenton, Ithaca College; Kris Macomber, Meredith College

Drawing on the yogic traditions of Anusara and Vinyasa yoga and the work of Tricia Hersey, who argues that rest is resistance, this mini conference will offer three sessions of slow flow yoga (led by Joslyn Brenton), coupled with an introduction to meditation (led by Kris Macomber). Each session will blend yoga poses with opportunities to rest, helping you to tap into your agency through intentional movement and the stillness of meditation. No prior experience is needed. All poses will be offered in an accessible way with options for modification to fit the needs of first-time and long-time practitioners. Yoga mats will be provided, or you can bring your own. Each 75-minute session will include a brief opening talk, 50 minutes of yoga, and 10-15 minutes of guided meditation to end the session. Please wear soft and/or flexible clothing to allow for full movement. Yoga pants, leggings, sweatpants, shorts, or flowy leggings are all suitable. Shirts should be soft and allow for comfortable movement.
